ADDITIONAL MINISTRY OF NORM FRANZ

Prophetic Ministry

Norm is director of the School of Prophetic Ministry (SPM), where he educates and activates the body of Christ in the dynamics of authentic prophetic ministry. Norm also trains believers how to interpret current events in light of end time Bible prophecy. His mission is to help the church be like the sons of Isshacar, who understand the times and have knowledge of what God's people should do (1 Chron. 12:32). The SPM, and its correspondence course, has been taken by over 500 hundred students, across four continents.

Christian Economist

Before entering into full time ministry, Norm served the financial world as a consumer loan officer, investment company president, and senior monetary economist. As president and chief operations officer of a financial services firm during the 1987 stock market crash, Norm's eyes were opened to how the global financial markets are manipulated by a system of dishonest weights and measures.

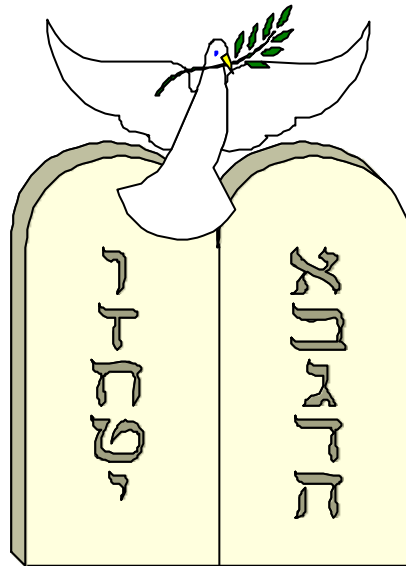

Today, he unmasks the secrets of the world's monetary system and how it has taken the nations captive through debt. He has appeared on two financial documentaries and over one thousand radio programs dealing with the problems facing the global economy. He has counseled with financial, political, and church leaders throughout Southeast Asia on how they can protect themselves against future economic upheavals. His operative experience and prophetic insights have made him a sought after speaker, who has become a premiere prophetic voice concerning money and investment in the new millennium.

Deliverance Ministry

Norm believes that deliverance ministry is for today. He desires to see the people of God set free from the bondage of demonic forces, and then minister that same freedom to others. He and the leadership of Ascension Ministries have developed deliverance teams who are effectively Setting the Captives Free.
